THE COMPLETE GUIDE TO CONFERENCE ATTENDANCE

Principle

Present your research in 180s with only one slide in a fun and original way!
The three best presentations, as rated by the jury, will receive a prize!

Rules

You are allowed to use one slide (without videos or animations)
You have exactly 180s to present your work.
You are allowed to use (small) additional equipment.

Evaluation

Your performance will be evaluated by a panel of 2 ECS
evaluation will be based on the following points:

- speaker qualities: clear expression; enthusiasm; interest
- and of course if the presentation was entertaining
- structure: clear purpose of research; clear presentation
organisation of ideas and the added value of the research

Winners of the EPSC Science Flash: Julie Novakova, Andrea Longobardo, and Christoph Burger.
